HARTFORD MAYOR ASKS RESIDENTS TO CLEAR STREETS DURING WINTER STORM EVENTS

Hartford – Mayor Eddie A. Perez requests that all city residents remove cars from city streets during parking bans. A winter storm is expected this evening into Friday morning. “The police towed over 200 vehicles left on the street during the last storm,” Mayor Perez stated. “We need the public’s help to keep our streets safe and passable. We need our police to respond to emergencies, not to parked cars.”

Towing fees during a parking ban can exceed $100.00. All residents are urged to keep city streets clear of parked cars during all winter storm events.
